
Figure : Isolines of the daily mean insolation in W/m ^{2} in dependence on the heliocentric longitude of the Earth's position on the orbit measured from the vernal equinox (VE) and the latitude on the Earth's surface for the four model runs. For the present insolation absolut values are shown while the values for the other runs represent anomalies from today.